

Latin Language: Caesar, Bellum Gallicum

Dr Martina Astrid Rodda

In these four lectures we will read through the Caesar set texts for Mods (De Bello Gallico I and III), considering matters of language and style, to aid in your preparation for the set texts section of the language paper. The first two classes (week 1 and 2) will cover DBG book III.1-13, which is set for both course I and course IIA. The remaining two lectures will continue with the course I set text: in week 3 we will continue with book III (sections to be decided together, so do come along to the week 2 class to have a say), while week 4 will cover book I.1-11 (or as much of it as we can cover in one hour). It will be very helpful if you can translate the text in advance of each session, but don't be afraid to join without preparation if this will be useful. The lectures will be recorded via Lecture Capture, but I still hope as many of you as possible will show up in person, for a more interactive class experience.
