

Indo-European, Greek and Latin: Morphology (Prof. Andreas Willi)

These lectures (which continue the series that started last term) are aimed primarily at those taking the "Historical Linguistics and Comparative Philology" paper in Classics Mods, the "Comparative Philology: Indo-European, Greek and Latin" paper in Greats and in the Joint Schools, the "Historical Linguistics and Comparative Philology" paper in the MSt in Greek and/or Latin Languages and Literature, and those studying the history of ancient Greek and Latin for the graduate degrees under Linguistics, Philology and Phonetics. Other interested people are very welcome. The lectures will take place on Mondays and Thursdays at 12 noon, in the Schwarzman Centre for the Humanities, room 10.304 (this is on the first floor).